One of our main goals is introducing new products in the US market. In this role you will be part of the Research and Development team and you will regularly liaise with the Analytics, Regulatory Affairs and Food and Drug (FDA) Registration team to ensure that our products are aligned with international regulatory requirements.

These are your tasks and responsibilities:

- Support the analytics team with planning of method validation and the statistical analysis of data
- Write method validation reports to ensure passing EFSA and FDA scrutiny
- Advise on method validation guidelines
- Support the regulatory team in communication with EFSA and FDA
- Ensure collaboration among project team members and timely delivery of results

In order to leave your "foodprint" at BIOMIN, you need the following:

- Scientific degree - chemistry, biotechnology, or similar
- 3+ years of experience in the preparation of validation reports filed to Regulatory Authorities (e.g. FDA, EFSA)
- Experience in analytical method validation
- Knowledge of international feed safety regulations is an advantage
- Ability to collaborate across departments and work on multiple projects
- Fluent English, excellent writing and presentation skills
- Excellent communication skills, organization and planning skills, attention to detail
- FDA-related validation experience and LC-MS/MS experience is an advantage

We are Pioneers, Partners and Performers. That means for you:

- 100% of our trust in advance
- Exciting and challenging tasks in Europe and across the globe
- A company belonging to a group with strong sales and growth for more than 30 years
- Top-notch teams and leading-edge technology
- Unique company culture, broad diversity and flat hierarchies

We guarantee a competitive, market-oriented salary dependent on professional and personal qualifications. We are obliged by law to quote the minimum wage of EUR 34.286,00 gross per year (full-time/38.5h) for this position, in accordance with the respective collective agreement.
